Assistant Professors in Landscape Architecture
School of Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture / Faculty of Environmental Design

The School of Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture provides professional education and conducts research in the fields of urban and regional planning, landscape architecture, landscape studies, and the design, development and management of landscapes at every scale (local, metropolitan, regional) and for every environment (urban, suburban, rural and natural). The School is the only one in Canada that offers landscape architecture studies in French. The educational, professional and research activities of the School's twenty professors are recognized locally and internationally. In the area of landscape architecture, the School offers a Minor in Garden Design, a Bachelor's program in Landscape Architecture and a Master of Landscape Architecture program accredited by the Canadian Society of Landscape Architects, and a "City, Land and Landscape" option in the Master of Research in Environmental Design program. The School also participates in the Faculty’s graduate programs, including a Ph.D. in Environmental Design. Activities at the School take place in French.

The School of Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture is part of the Faculty of Environmental Design at the Université de Montréal, which offers programs at all three academic levels in six disciplines: architecture, industrial design, interior design, game design, landscape architecture and urban planning. The diversity, quality and interdisciplinary nature of the Faculty's teaching and research create an exceptional environment for designing living spaces.

Job description

The School of Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture is seeking applications for two Professor of Landscape Architecture positions. Both positions are full-time and at the Assistant Professor level.

Responsibilities

» Teach workshops, courses and seminars and supervise students at all levels of study in programs offered by the School in Landscape Architecture (Minor, Bachelor, Master) or by the Faculty (Master, Ph.D.).
» Develop a teaching and research program in an area of expertise pertaining to landscape architecture, landscape studies, project design and development, or landscape design and management.
» Contribute to the development and management of teaching programs at the School.
» Contribute to the life of the School and of the university and to their public standing.

Requirements

» Doctorate in an area of expertise relevant to landscape architecture, environmental design or a related field. Applications from candidates who have submitted their thesis, or who have an equivalent experience and education, will also be considered.
» Professional degree in landscape architecture or an equivalent degree.
» Dossier of scientific publications, including publications submitted or in preparation.
» Ability to teach and supervise at all levels of study.
» Ability to work as part of a team, in an interdisciplinary context and in a French institution.
» Adequate French language skills (written and spoken) or a strong commitment to attaining the level of proficiency required, in accordance with Université de Montréal’s Language Policy. A formal program of support is offered to all professors wishing to learn French or improve their mastery of that language.

Université de Montréal has more than 10,000 employees and is one of Canada's Top 100 Employers.
UdeM has Canada's 2nd largest student body and ranks among the top five Canadian universities in research, receiving more than half a billion dollars in research funding every year.
Through the achievements of the members of its community, UdeM participates in building today’s and tomorrow’s world.
The following qualities would be considered additional assets:

- Eligibility for the Canadian Society of Landscape Architects (CSLA) or membership in a professional association of landscape architects
- Specialization in design or in regional landscapes
- Professional experience
- Mastery of English

Application

Interested candidates are invited to submit their application by 4 p.m. on December 15, 2018, by sending the required material by email in PDF format to Danielle Dagenais, Chair of the School of Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture, at the address indicated below. Université de Montréal is strongly committed to fostering diversity and inclusion. Through its Equal Access Employment Program, UdeM invites women, Aboriginal people, visible and ethnic minorities, as well as persons with disabilities, to send their application. We will – confidentially – adapt our recruitment mechanisms to the specific needs of people with disabilities who request it. We also welcome applications from candidates of all orientations and sexual identities. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadians and permanent residents.

Université de Montréal's application process allows all members of the Professor’s Assembly to review the application files submitted. If you wish to keep your application confidential until the shortlist is established, please mention it in your application.
